ANALYSIS OF ILLEGAL LOGGING IN MOLDOVA REVEALS UNACCOUNTED WOOD

Chisinau, 19 March – A study on the scale of illegal logging in Moldova revealed that possibly around 500,000 m3 of harvested wood went unrecorded in recent official documents by governmental authorities. This amount represents domestic consumption of forest resources which are likely to come from illegal and/or from unsustainable practices. Yet the source of this consumption still needs to be verified. The study was conducted by the ENPI FLEG Programme in 2010-2011 and supplemented with data from another study on real annual wood consumption in the country.

Only a section of the illegally harvested wood could be physically traced by the ENPI FLEG working group engaged in the study. Within that section data shows that the amount of illicit wood in the forests managed by Agency “Moldsilva” was around 3,800 m3 in 2010 and around 2,500 m3 in the first half of 2011, while the amount of illicit wood uncovered in the forestland managed by others constituted around 16,000 m3 in 2010.

The results of the study and the other study on wood consumption conducted by ENPI FLEG were published and disseminated among stakeholders and presented to the Agency “Moldsilva”. The studies leveraged stricter revisions and control of forest resources by the Agency “Moldsilva” and the State Ecological Inspectorate.
